

Disclosure on Restricted Content in the Ludo Learning Co. Curriculum

Purpose and Rationale

The goal of education is to foster a safe, nurturing, and positive learning environment where all students can thrive academically, emotionally, and socially. Central to this goal is the careful curation of content that aligns with the developmental stages and sensitivities of young learners. Words and language hold significant power, not just in conveying ideas but also in shaping the values, behavior, and emotional well-being of those who hear and use them.

Restricted Language in the Curriculum

As educators, we have a responsibility to ensure that the language and materials presented to students are age-appropriate and conducive to a respectful and inclusive learning environment. Certain words, phrases, and expressions are inappropriate for young audiences due to their potentially harmful or disruptive nature. These words may include, but are not limited to, vulgarities, profanities, slurs, or any language that could be interpreted as offensive, disrespectful, or damaging to the self-esteem and well-being of students.

The decision to restrict these words is rooted in the understanding that children are in a formative stage of their cognitive and emotional development. Exposure to inappropriate language can have negative impacts, such as normalizing disrespectful behavior, perpetuating stereotypes, or causing distress among students. Moreover, the use of such language can create an environment that is not conducive to learning and can undermine the mutual respect that should exist in any educational setting.

Disclosure to Viewers

The list of words provided below represents language that has been explicitly banned from the curriculum due to the reasons outlined above. This list is intended for mature, adult audiences who are capable of understanding the context and rationale behind the restriction of such language in an educational setting. It is important to note that this list is not provided as an endorsement or recommendation for the use of these words in any context. Instead, it serves as a transparent disclosure of the content that has been deemed inappropriate for young learners, in order to maintain the integrity and safety of the educational environment.

By reviewing this list, viewers acknowledge that the language contained therein is unsuitable for children and is restricted from all educational materials and discussions involving students. The list should be accessed and reviewed only by those who have a legitimate need to understand the restrictions and who can handle the content with the maturity and discretion required.
